

Kirkkonummi Town Hall

The five floors of the town hall circulate around the central civic square and the inner walls are all covered with printed glass. The main entrance is on the first floor, which contains the municipal service point, restaurant, the council hall and the meeting rooms. The social security department is located on the second floor and on the same floor there is access to the other municipal services via glazed bridge connecting the town hall with the shopping center where the rest of the municipal service facilities remain. The third floor is for the education department and on the fourth floor is the municipal admin department. The saunas and a large meeting room are located on top level with magnificent views towards the municipal center on three directions.

The building facades are mostly double facades. In front of the actual external wall, glass plates and perforated copper elements have been placed randomly. Perforated copper elements also contribute to reduce solar heat radiation indoors. The other parts of the facade are dark red brick and copper sheet metal. The materials used are classic and durable. In order to use such materials we wanted to emphasize the time-independent position as a public building in the center of Kirkkonummi.
