

Vartiovuori Observatory

Vartiovuori Observatory is a former observatory in Turku. The observatory, designed by Carl Ludvig Engel, was originally built for the Royal Academy of Turku. The neoclassical building was completed in 1819. The building was renovated and transformed into an office and exhibition space in 2008.

Location	Turku, Finland
Client	The Åbo Akademi University Foundation
Year	2008
Size	780 m ²

